What we may do with your personal information?

Your personal information is processed for the purposes of:

- Staff administration and management (including payroll and performance)
- Pensions administration
- Business management and planning
- Accounting and Auditing
- Accounts and records
- Education

- Health administration and services
- Information and databank administration
- Crime prevention and prosecution of offenders
- Sharing and matching of personal information for national fraud initiative

Who do we share your personal information with and why?

We will not routinely disclose any information about you without your express permission. However, in order to enable effective staff administration and comply with our obligations as your employer, we will share the information which you provide during the course of your employment (including the recruitment process) with the NHS Business Services Authority for maintaining your employment records, held on systems including PCSE, NHS Pensions online, in your paper based folders, with our Accountants.

Any disclosures of personal data are always made on a case-by-case basis, using the minimum personal data necessary for the specific purpose and circumstances, with the appropriate security controls in place. Personal Information is only shared with those agencies and bodies who have a "need to know" or where you have consented to the disclosure of your personal data to such persons.

Where possible, we will always look to anonymise/pseudonymise your personal information so as to protect confidentiality, unless there is a legal basis that permits us to use it, and will only ever use/share the minimum information necessary. However, there are occasions where the Practice is required by law to share information provided to us with other bodies responsible for auditing or administering public funds, in order to prevent and detect fraud.

For any request to transfer your data internationally outside the UK/EU we will make sure that an adequate level of protection can be satisfied before the transfer.

There are a number of circumstances where we must or can share information about you to comply or manage with:

- Disciplinary/ investigation processes; including referrals to Professional Bodies, e.g. NMC and GMC;
- Legislative and/or statutory requirements;

- Court Orders which may have been imposed on us;
- NHS Counter Fraud requirements;
- Request for information from the police and other law enforcement agencies for the prevention and detection of crime and/or fraud if the crime is of a serious nature.

How we maintain your records

Your personal information is held in both paper and electronic forms for specified periods of time as set out in the NHS Records Management Code of Practice for Health and Social Care and National Archives Requirements.

We hold and process your information in accordance with GDPR & the Data Protection Act 2018. In addition, everyone working for the NHS must comply with the Common Law Duty of Confidentiality and various national and professional standards and requirements.

We have a duty to:

- Maintain full and accurate records of your information.
- Keep records about you confidential and secure.
- Provide information in a format that is accessible to you.

How long do we keep your information?

All records held by the Practice will be kept for the duration specified by national guidance from the Department of Health. The Records Management Code of Practice for Health and Social Care 2016.

Records Management Code of Practice for Health and Social Care 2016

Confidential information is securely destroyed in accordance with this code of practice.

What are your rights?

If we need to use your information for any reasons beyond those stated above, we will discuss this with you and ask for your explicit consent. The General Data Protection Regulations give you certain rights, including the right to:

- Request to access the personal data we hold about you, e.g. personnel records. If you wish to do this, please contact the Practice Manager.
- Request the correction of inaccurate or incomplete information recorded in our records, subject to certain safeguards.
- Request that your information be deleted or removed where there is no need for us to continue processing it and where the retention time has passed;
- Ask us to restrict the use of your information where appropriate;
- Ask us to copy or transfer your information from one IT system to another in a safe and secure way, without impacting the quality of the information;
- To object to how your information is used;
- To challenge any decisions made without human intervention (automated decision making)
